1 Introduction

You can and should cross-reference sections and sub-sections. We use R Core Team (2023) and Wickham et al. (2019).

The remainder of this paper is structured as follows. Section 2….

2 Data

//sum up gen survey and the questions the survey is intended to ask. Background about the GSS.

Background about the sampling methodology

Background about the questions that are asked.

Plot each variable of interest and add discussion around them.

Talk more about it.

And also planes (?@fig-planes). (You can change the height and width, but don't worry about doing that until you have finished every other aspect of the paper - Quarto will try to make it look nice and the defaults usually work well once you have enough text.)

Talk way more about it.

3 Results

Our results are summarized in.

//Add some analysis here. So that might be looking at difference over time or between states or between genders. Whatever.

4 Discussion

4.1 First discussion point

If my paper were 10 pages, then should be be at least 2.5 pages. The discussion is a chance to show off what you know and what you learnt from all this.

4.2 Second discussion point

4.3 Third discussion point

4.4 Weaknesses and next steps

Weaknesses and next steps should also be included.
